Dinner Dance Honoree, Dr Gerald L. Melamut   You Make Us Proud!

Diane Silverstein

It is altogether fitting that we are honoring Dr. Gerald L. Melamut and Temple Beth El, both 85 this year, and growing! Jerry is one of Beth El’s true sons, whose service to the Temple covers so many years and so many levels of activities. He is surely in that select group whose contributions of time, skill and energy keep the Temple running in high gear.

Every morning Jerry opens the door of the Temple for morning Minyan. He often gives a ride to another Minyanaire. He serves as Gabbai and is always present to support those who need to say Kaddish. His services constitute the very foundation of the Minyan, one of the most important arms of the Synagogue.

Jerry and Ethel chaired the Worship Space Committee, a big part of the Building Committee. That we worship in a beautiful sanctuary which incorporates so much of the gorgeous windows and ceiling from our previous location, in comfortable seats, in such a magnificent space all comes back to their many hours of effort and their wise choices.

For the past 8 years, Jerry has been on the Beth El Memorial Park Board and previously served on the Temple Board of Directors. He does much behind the scenes, visiting the sick and offering transportation, real gifts to the hospitalized and home-bound. He really calls the Temple his second home.

Jerry’s road to Temple Beth El began 85 years ago on May 8, 1929 in Providence, Rhode Island. Upon graduation from high school, at the young age of 17, Jerry enlisted in the Army and soon found himself on a troop carrier headed for Korea. He served there for almost 2 years.

When he returned home, Jerry entered the Rhode Island College of Pharmacy. After his graduation in May of 1952, Jerry opened his own pharmacy in Providence. One day in 1953 Jerry attended his cousin’s wedding. This was one of those life-altering decisions because there he met Ethel, best friend of the bride! They married in August, 1954.

In 1961, Jerry decided to enter medical school. He, Ethel and their two daughters moved to Philadelphia where Jerry entered the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. Their son was born during this time. In May of 1965, Jerry became a physician!

The next decision to come to the Allentown Osteopathic Medical Center for his internship at last landed Jerry and his family in our fair city! Here’s where the Melamuts and Temple Beth El joined hands, one of those lucky moves so beneficial to both parties!

When his internship was complete, Jerry and Dr. William Lozinger opened the Whitehall Medical Center. Jerry and Bill maintained one of the truly successful “medical marriages” of all time, practicing together until 1995.

Jerry was certified in Family Medicine, Quality Assurance and Utilization Review. He was an old-fashioned family doctor, caring for all ages, making house calls and never losing that awe at the miracle of birth. This devoted physician loved what he did and received the respect and love of his patients.

Jerry is a Big Time FAMILY MAN, yes, in capital letters! The love and devotion between Ethel and Jerry is so heartwarming that in truth it could be said that they are “EthelandJerry,” all one word! Their pride and joy in their children and grandchildren is wondrous! Their first daughter, Brenda, married to Lindsey Morris, are parents of Andrea and Rachel. Soon, Rachel will bring Mark into the family! Daughter, Debbie, is married to David Minkoff and their sons are Lee and Jake. Their son, Jon, is married to Sherri and their children are Hailey and Alec. This year, “EthelandJerry” will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary! The Temple, their family, and friends who love them so dearly, unite in wishing them a most hearty Mazel Tov and every wish for good health and continued happiness, surrounded by their beloved family!

They live their lives in a beautiful Jewish way which is an inspiration and blessing to their family and friends and a gift to the Temple and community.

Now is the time to say Thank You to Jerry for all he does for the Temple and to appreciate this outstanding man with a new Temple equation:

Loyal Temple servant + Dedicated physician + Proud FAMILY MAN = One Magnificent Mensch!!

Jerry, may each part of this equation continue to bring you the happiness and joy you have brought to so many others!
The Ten Commandments as a Jewish Icon
Rabbi Moshe Re’em

Much as “Tradition and Change” serves as the motto for the Conservative movement, the expression adequately captures Temple Beth El’s 85 year old history. Like our Temple sanctuary, which pleasantly blends the old with the new, our history combines tradition with innovation. This year on Shavuot, in honor of our 85th anniversary as a congregation, I would like to take one symbol from our sanctuary and explore its iconographic history.

When facing the Aron Hakodesh, the Holy Ark housing our Torah scrolls, majestically displayed above the ark are the Ten Commandments. In displaying the commandments above the ark we are not unique. Walk into almost any synagogue across the globe and you will find the same commandments displayed in the same fashion above the ark. However, historically this was not always the case. The way in which the commandments have been portrayed has changed throughout the ages.

In order to examine the evolution of the artistic portrayal of the Ten Commandments please join us for a study session on Tuesday June 3rd at 9:00 p.m.

According to Jewish legend, the Israelites slept late the morning that the Torah was supposed to be given at Mt. Sinai. They had to be awakened by Moses. In contrast, the custom evolved for Jews to stay awake the whole night, prior to Shavuot, in order to atone for the ancient Israelites. That is how the custom of the Tikkun Leil Shavuot began.

Although we will not be staying awake all night, in our community, it has long been the practice to devote an hour to study on the eve of Shavuot, in recognition of the importance of Torah study in our tradition and in honor of the giving of the Torah at Sinai. It is my hope that you will join us for what I am sure will be a fascinating exploration of Jewish art history, focused on the representation of the Ten Commandments.

“Under The Stars”
Shira Chadasha Service
Friday, June 27th
7:30 PM
Cantor’s Message

On June 4th, we will celebrate the Confirmation of our Ninth Grade students on the festival of Shavuot.

Shavuot, Z’man Matan Torateinu, is the celebration of the giving of the Torah at Mt. Sinai.

Shavuot, which means “weeks,” is celebrated seven weeks after the first day of Passover. The Rabbis speak of Shavuot as the concluding festival to Passover, for the deliverance from Egypt was not an end itself, but the prelude to Sinai. There our people accepted the Torah as our Law for all generations, and the Ten Commandments are read in the synagogue during the Shavuot service.

At Temple Beth El, as at most Conservative and Reform synagogues in the United States, we celebrate on the first day of Shavuot the Confirmation of our young people who have completed their prescribed course of study. On the day that the Torah was revealed to their ancestors, they confirm their own acceptance of Torah.

Shavuot is one of the three Pilgrimage Festivals in Judaism and is considered a major Jewish holiday.

We want to congratulate our Confirmants on this milestone in their lives. It is quite an accomplishment. Studies show that students who complete their education through Confirmation are the likely leaders of the Jewish Community of the future. We encourage them to continue a lifelong commitment to Jewish education, especially by participating in SHALSHELET, our 10-12 grade educational program open to the entire Jewish community.

On Shavuot, we read the Book of Ruth, the time of the Giving of Torah. The authority for this is found in Sofrim, an 8th century Palestinian text; the rabbis find many reasons why Ruth and Shavuot are linked: harvest time, the Giving of the Torah and its acceptance as we see it in the life of Ruth and David, the offspring of Ruth, who died on Shavuot; and it is a happy book for a season of joy.

Please consider attending this joyous service and supporting our young people in their accomplishments.

Hag Sameach!

Service Under The Stars

You and your family are invited to “Service Under the Stars” to be held at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, June 27th on the Temple’s patio. Welcoming the Shabbat, surrounded by G-d’s creations, trees and plants, clouds and stars enhance understanding to the words of the Kiddush, “Then G-d blessed the seventh day and called it holy because on it He ceased from all his work creation.”

Join your fellow congregants at this special service.

Plant Exchange

A cold, cloudy and wintry day greeted attendees at Temple Beth El’s Second Annual Plant Exchange on Sunday, April 27th, at 10 am. Tulips, ever-blooming Strawberries, Chives, Hibiscus, Seed Potatoes and annuals of all kinds traded hands and will brighten new gardens this year and next....

Thank you to our own Green Thumb co-organizers: Gail Combs, Pat Luftman and Michael Rothman

This time, Next Year! Plan ahead....

Time To Begin Practicing

All those in our synagogue family who can blow a shofar or would like to learn, please contact Cantor Wartell as soon as possible!

New shofar blowers are welcomed and encouraged!

Interested in learning how to chant Torah for the upcoming High Holidays? Contact Cantor Wartell as soon as possible to begin the training process!

JEWISH MUSIC AND MORE EVERY FRIDAY

JEWISH MUSIC AND MORE EVERY FRIDAY
School Schmooze…
by Alicia Zahn, Religious School Director

This year’s Confirmation class has grown up together and truly bring out the best in each other. They studied leadership styles and skills with Rabbi Re’em along with lessons from the Book of Ruth. They also studied mitzvot and trope with Cantor Wartell, which prepared them for the Shavuot service. Although ninth graders are very busy, many of them volunteered throughout the year as madrichim in the religious school and many of them volunteered to lead some of the Junior Congregation services. This is truly a great bunch of kids who are committed to not only studying the traditions, but living what they learn.

This special group of teens will lead the service on Shavuot to celebrate their Confirmation. Please join us on Wednesday, June 4, 2014 to celebrate the next milestone in the lives of these future Jewish leaders.

Our Confirmands this year are: Coral Cohen, Mara Cohen, Benjamin Delin, Maia Gould, Jacob Langer, Natalie Luftman, Samuel Ringold, Lisa Stein, Benjamin Weiner, Carly Zager.

Ninth graders pause from their Confirmation studies to take a selfie.
The story of Shavuot is perfectly connected to many of our children’s lives. With all the team sports and dance classes, there is not one among them who does not understand the concept of teamwork. Share this story with your children and then make the connection that follows below:

“Coach, I think we should just give up now,” sighed Barry, the center of the Rams basketball team. His teammates nodded in agreement. It was half-time and the Wolves were ahead of the Rams by 20 points. “What are you talking about?” answered the coach confidently. “But coach, they’re killing us,” groaned Barry. “Each one of them is a superstar. We just can’t compete!”

Coach Mann wiped his brow and said “I know how you guys feel. They are a bunch of stars. But that’s just why I think we can beat ‘em.” The boys’ perked up a little and waited for the coach to go on. “We might not be as talented as they are, but we have one advantage over them: we know how to play as a team. The Wolves are all out for themselves and they have no teamwork. If you all get back out there and work together and help each other out, you’ll win. So go out there and DO IT!”

The coach slapped each of the boys on the back as he sent the team out for the second half of the game. Sure enough the Rams played united and with a minute left in the game the score was tied!

Now the Wolves had the ball. Each one of them was screaming to his team-mate to pass him the ball so that he could be the hero. But the player with the ball took the shot himself and it was a wild shot that missed by a mile.

Barry, the Rams’ center caught the ball, and was about to take a shot. But then he thought of his coach’s words, “play as a team” and decided to pass the ball to his teammate, Johnny who was closer to the basket. Johnny scored an easy hoop just as the buzzer sounded, ending the game. The Rams had won!

After the game coach Mann asked the team to vote for the “star of the game award.” But he cracked a big smile when everyone gave him the same answer: “We all were!”

When the Children of Israel stood at Mount Sinai, they all were there together. No one tried to beat anyone to the front of the pack, no one stayed back in their tent. They all accepted the Torah as one people. The following years of wandering in the desert were not as smooth, but for one miraculous moment they were like one person with one heart. Today, ask your kids how they can recreate this special holiday’s emotion: what parts of Judaism make your family feel part of the Jewish people? Try to appreciate the special gift of Torah and remember, when we all look out for each other amazing things can happen! Chag Sameach!

Minyan

The daily minyan is one of the foundations of our congregation. At morning minyan men and women gather to pray, to hear Torah read and to recite Kaddish on the Yahrzeit of a loved one or while they are in mourning. Friendships grow out of the minyan.

We need 10 people each day to make the minyan. If you can commit to coming one day a week, more or less often, you will be performing an important mitzvah.

Minyan meets on weekdays and Federal holidays at 7:45 am and on Sundays at 9:00 am. Come daven with the Rabbi and the Cantor. They’ll be very happy to see you there!

Rabbi Jonathan Porath was raised as a child in the Lehigh Valley. He holds a M.A. in Russian history from Columbia University and was ordained by the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. An authority on Russian Jewry, Rabbi Porath has visited Russia over 175 times. For many years Rabbi Porath worked for the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee in their former Soviet Union department in Israel. He is an excellent educator, storyteller, and lecturer and we are pleased to be able to host him for Shabbat as our guest scholar-in-residence.
